Metro Art Presents

Movements at Union Station

Metro Art Presents is thrilled to announce "Movements at Union Station," an all-new series featuring three different Los Angeles based DJ collectives!

Join us for luscious, danceable grooves underneath the night sky complemented with visual projections at one of LA's majestic landmarks. The events will also include a drop-in silkscreen stencil workshop led by Self Help Graphics & Art, a photo booth and food trucks. Snacks and libations from Café Crepe.

Fridays on the Union Station South Patio, 8:00 - 11:00pm.

JULY 26 -- JUJU

We're kicking off the first night in this DJ series with "Juju," a Soul Children experience. The Soul Children are a Los Angeles based crew of artists, promoters and DJs consisting of Al Jackson, Sacred, DJ Rome, mcdj1One and Q Michelle. Their mission is to inject soulful and creative expressions into the nightlife of L.A. club culture.

AUGUST 2 -- HEAT-WAVE
With Special Guest Norio Sato

A Los Angeles based party series founded by DJs Daniel T. and Wyatt Potts with a focus on international funk and disco records, Heat-Wave has hosted guest DJs from all over the world including Japan, Brazil, Korea, Mexico, Armenia, Greece, Germany, and India, which creates a unique mix of music. The evening is also Heat-Wave's three-year anniversary celebration!

Norio Sato is the owner of the Rare Groove record shop in Osaka and the head of the Members record label. A true connoisseur of music, he also organizes the parties Metro, Norio AZ Music Radio and Positive Affair.

AUGUST 9 -- LA JUNTA LOS ANGELES
With Special Guest Jose Marquez

La Junta Los Angeles is known for its popular LA brand of outdoor cultural celebrations featuring tropical Afro-Latin music. The events feature the rhythms of the Caribbean, Africa and India.

Los Angeles DJ/Producer Jose Marquez's sound blends his early influences of Afro-Latin, Caribbean and other World Music. He has created celebrated remixes and edits of artists such as Celia Cruz, Nina Simone and Oumou Sangare. Marquez has performed at major events in Paris, Athens, Toronto, Los Angeles, NYC, Melbourne, Nairobi, Morocco, Singapore, Shanghai, Peru, Cuba and most recently in India.

Metro Art Presents showcases an exciting array of year-round arts and cultural programs at historic Union Station. All events are free and open to the public. More information: metro.net/art and unionstationla.com.

Art Tour of Downtown LA stations *¡en español!

Meet at Union Station Information Kiosk, inside Alameda Street entrance

Led by Metro Art Docents, the free tours focus on sharing the stories and processes behind artworks in various stations, getting around town using transit, and drawing attention to area destinations served by Metro. No reservations required.

Art & Architecture Tours of Union Station

Sunday, August 11, 10:30am - 12:30pm

Meet at Union Station Information Kiosk, inside Alameda Street entrance

Led by Metro Art Docents, the free tour covers Union Station art, architecture and spaces not generally open to the public, including the Historic Ticketing Hall. Additionally, the tour explores artworks located in the Gold Line portal and inside the Metro Gateway Headquarters Building. Reservations are not required.

Metro Art Moves tours highlight Metro's diverse collection of artworks, heighten the passenger experience in fun and engaging ways to boost public perceptions about transit, promote rider etiquette and offer opportunities for discovery. Tours are free. More information: metro.net/art.

To our members:

Last month, numerous members from the Oscar Joel Bryant Foundation (OJB) contacted their board of directors to voice their concerns regarding the May 2019 Thin Blue Line cover. As a board, we reached out to the Los Angeles Police Protective League (LAPPL) to discuss the concerns our members had with the cover. We did not address the related article about the spike in shootings within South Los Angeles as neither the OJB board, nor the members we spoke with, expressed concerns with the LAPPL's description of the role they wished to play in combatting the violence. Given that the majority of our members were residents or are currently residing in South Los Angeles, we fully support all efforts in reducing violence in our community.

Due to the number of calls and texts we each received, we elected to send out a survey to determine how much of the overall OJB membership felt similarly. Upon closing the survey, we met with the LAPPL and shared the results. As your board, we felt it was our responsibility to share your thoughts with the LAPPL, because our sworn members are also their members.

The link below will allow you to see the end results of the survey. The LAPPL has expressed to us that they in no way intended to publish a cover that could be perceived as offensive by their members or members of the community. We will continue to maintain these open lines of communication with the LAPPL in an effort to educate one another and act as professional organizations with similar missions, which is to ensure that our members are treated fairly and as equals.

Subject: Today: Mueller Has Spoken. Now What?

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

Special counsel Robert S. Mueller III, on his way out the door, pointedly refused to clear President Trump of a possible crime./p>

TOP STORIES

Mueller Has Spoken. Now What?

After nearly two years of letting the indictments and his 448-page report do the talking, special counsel Robert S. Mueller III finally spoke in front of cameras to the American public to deliver a few messages: His investigation did not exonerate President Trump of a crime. Justice Department guidelines prevent indicting a sitting president. The threat of foreign meddling in elections needs to be taken more seriously. Read the redacted report. (No, really, read it here.) “If we had confidence that the president did not commit a crime, we would have said so,” Mueller declared in a raspy baritone. As for Russia’s intervention in the 2016 campaign, he cited “insufficient evidence to charge a broader conspiracy” with the Trump campaign.

Hardly the “no collusion, no obstruction” mantra that Trump has recited. Though Mueller did not significantly expand on the text of his report in his comments, some Democratic presidential candidates responded by calling for impeachment for the first time. That is ramping up the pressure on House Speaker Nancy Pelosi to open an impeachment process that she has resisted.

More Politics

— Pelosi sharply criticized Facebook for not taking down a doctored video of her, suggesting that the company’s refusal indicates it “wittingly” allowed similarly false information to circulate during the 2016 election.

— Alabama Republican Roy Moore is insisting he can win a Senate rematch in 2020 and says he won’t be influenced by Trump’s tweets urging him not to try.

A ‘King’ No More?

It was just seven weeks ago that Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu’s supporters shouted “Bibi, King of Israel!” after an election appeared to secure a fifth term for him. Now, Israel is in political chaos, after the scandal-ridden leader failed in his efforts to form a new coalition government — and moved to make sure his main rival wouldn’t get to try to do so. That means a second election this year, unprecedented in Israel, is now on the horizon. The developments cast a cloud not only over Netanyahu’s future but also the already dim prospects for a Mideast peace deal spearheaded by Trump's son-in-law (and Netanyahu family friend) Jared Kushner.

A Skid Row Settlement

In a pivotal legal settlement, the city of Los Angeles won't limit the total amount of property that homeless people can keep on skid row — but it will throw away sofas, refrigerators and other large items crowding the downtown area. The agreement applies only to skid row, which encompasses 50 blocks, and adjoining streets. Homeless advocates say it will force a human response to the crisis, but nearby businesses object that it hampers the city too much.

An Uncharted Galaxy

Unless you've been living under a rock on Tatooine, you probably know Star Wars: Galaxy's Edge is opening this weekend at Disneyland in Anaheim. It's a 14-acre land that is the park's largest expansion themed to a single franchise. What you might not know is how interactive it aims to be. Or how Millennium Falcon: Smugglers Run is like a large-scale, walk-in, user-malleable arcade game. Or what it's like to build your own lightsaber. Or what costumes you can't wear. Now, you know.

CALIFORNIA

— The state Assembly has passed a police use-of-force bill that could create one of the toughest standards in the nation, after changes pacified law enforcement but caused some of the bill’s earliest supporters to abandon it.

— An effort to temporarily protect tenants from steep rent increases has cleared a major hurdle in the Legislature after tenant advocates agreed to make changes to significantly weaken the legislation.

— Ashton Kutcher testified in the trial of Michael Gargiulo, whom prosecutors have called a “serial sexual-thrill killer.”

— Artist Beau Stanton has agreed to make changes to a mural in Koreatown that's attracted criticism from some activists but that also inspired many others opposed to political censorship to come to his defense.

— Georgia's long-standing and lucrative relationship with the Walt Disney Co. could be headed for a break-up over the state's new, restrictive abortion law.

— The TV series “Deadwood” ended abruptly a decade ago. It returns to HBO as a film, and stars Ian McShane and Timothy Olyphant discussed its legacy with us.

— “Jeopardy!” host Alex Trebek says his pancreatic-cancer tumors are shrinking at a “mind-boggling” pace.

— Theater critic Charles McNulty explains why “Constitution” and not “The Ferryman” should win the Tony Award for best play.

— Over the last month, about 500 tornadoes have struck the central United States. Is it because of climate change? Experts say a lack of data on tornadoes makes it hard to conclude whether it is a contributing factor.

— Louisiana lawmakers have passed a new abortion ban prohibiting the procedure before some women know they are pregnant. Gov. John Bel Edwards, the Deep South's only Democratic governor, plans to sign it into law.

— Ethnic violence in Ethiopia has forced nearly 3 million people from their homes.

— A British judge has ruled that former Foreign Secretary Boris Johnson will be summoned to court over allegations that he lied and misled the public during the Brexit referendum campaign in 2016.

— A Council of Europe report has called for an independent public inquiry into the car bomb assassination of a leading Maltese investigative journalist, criticizing the “glacial” pace of the investigation so far.

BUSINESS

— The nonpartisan Congressional Research Service has found the December 2017 tax cuts by Republicans and the Trump administration have had virtually no positive economic impact.

Columnist Michael Hiltzik takes a look.

— The sluggish Southern California housing market showed signs of perking up in April, as prices ticked up one month after they fell for the first time since 2012.

SPORTS

— Tyler Blevins, known as the immensely popular game streamer “Ninja,” wants to be seen as more than just that Fortnite guy. In the world of esports, he typically makes more than $500,000 per month streaming.

— No pitcher in baseball has been more effective than Hyun-Jin Ryu this season. The Dodgers have learned to accept his “fascinating” routine between starts.

— Mueller is a man of too few words about Trump and obstruction.

— How Indian Americans came to dominate the National Spelling Bee.

WHAT OUR EDITORS ARE READING

— The White House wanted the U.S. Navy to move the warship USS John S. McCain “out of sight” ahead of Trump’s visit to Japan, according to an email. In response to the story, Trump denied knowledge of it on Twitter. (Wall Street Journal)

— First person: For Chinese scientists who immigrated to the U.S., where do their hearts and bodies belong? (SupChina)

— Bidding on a laptop packed with some of the world's most dangerous malware closed at $1.345 million. It’s intended as (what else?) an art piece. (Engadget)

ONLY IN L.A.

You may know Roy Choi from the Kogi Korean BBQ food truck, Kogi taqueria, A-Frame, the Alibi Room or his new Las Vegas restaurant, Best Friend. Now, the L.A. chef finds himself at the center of not one but two television series. In some ways, it closes a circle for him. When he was at rock bottom in the mid-1990s, watching Emeril Lagasse’s Food Network series “Essence of Emeril” saved his life.

A MESSAGE FROM THE OJB BOARD OF DIRECTORS

To our members:

This afternoon, the Los Angeles Police Protective League (LAPPL) sent a letter out to its 10,000 members making statements regarding the Oscar Joel Bryant Foundation (OJB) and the May 2019 cover of the Thin Blue Line. Since the May issue was published, OJB's leadership has been in contact with the President and Vice President of the LAPPL. Both the President and Vice President had previously stated that they wanted open lines of communication if there were ever any issues OJB was aware of concerning the LAPPL and its actions.

So when several members of OJB contacted us to express their concern about the May 2019 cover of the Thin Blue Line, we shared those concerns with the LAPPL. Additionally, we advised them that we would survey the membership so that we could accurately convey how much of the membership felt similarly. Because it is our job to represent your interests, we did not want to take any final actions without first asking you how you felt, then sharing those results with you; and finally, advising you of what action we intended to take on your behalf.

To be clear, the survey you each received asking for your feedback has not closed. We thereby have not shared any conclusions with the LAPPL. We intend to allow you time to fully share your thoughts with us, and we will let you know our plan of action before we take it.

Despite what the LAPPL is doing, we, as your Board of Directors, remain committed to you and the mission of the Oscar Joel Bryant Foundation. We will continue to ensure you are provided the resources and guidance to perform your duties at the highest level. We will continue to provide you with a platform to have your voices heard. And we will continue to represent you in a way that is measured, professional, and carries forward the tradition of excellence established by all those before us who have served the Los Angeles Police Department, this organization, and the residents of South Los Angeles with honor, dignity, and respect.

Respectfully,
The Oscar Joel Bryant Board of Directors

Developments in North Korea, Venezuela and the Middle East, along with sparring with China over trade, have left the White House scrambling.

All's Not Quiet on Multiple Fronts

A missile launch in North Korea. A failed uprising in Venezuela. A fresh round of finger-pointing at China over trade. President Trump's unconventional foreign policy appears in disarray amid a series of setbacks and growing signs that the president and his advisors are on the verge of losing several risky policy bets. The challenges don't stop there. Islamic State's leader reappeared on video after Trump touted that it was "being badly beaten at every level." And the U.S. is sending an aircraft carrier strike force and additional bombers to the Middle East "to send a clear and unmistakable message to the Iranian regime that any attack on United States interests or on those of our allies will be met with unrelenting force” — a statement issued not from the Pentagon or the president, but from national security advisor John Bolton.

More Politics

— House Judiciary Committee Chairman Jerrold Nadler has scheduled a vote for Wednesday to hold Atty. Gen. William Barr in contempt of Congress, escalating the battle between the Democratic-led House and Trump’s administration. Meanwhile, Treasury Secretary Steven T. Mnuchin says the administration won’t be turning Trump’s tax returns over to the House.

— The Trump administration may change the way it determines the national poverty threshold, putting Americans living on the margins at risk of losing access to welfare programs.

— Michael Cohen, the former Trump lawyer and fixer, said there “remains much to be told” as he headed to begin a three-year prison sentence for crimes including campaign finance violations related to hush-money payments made on Trump’s behalf.

— Democratic presidential candidate Cory Booker is proposing that all gun owners be licensed by the federal government, a process that would include an interview and safety training.

— Ronna McDaniel is stuck between her Romney roots and being the chairwoman of Trump’s Republican Party.

Quandary of Riches

For all of California’s problems, the state government is rolling in taxpayer cash. “No governor has entered office with the kind of fiscal tail wind that Gov. Gavin Newsom enjoys,” writes Sacramento bureau chief John Myers. The question now: How much of it will be spent and on what? Democrats in the state Legislature have lots of plans for all that money, and how Newsom plays along with them or pushes back could set the tone for his term in office.

A Dire Warning and a Mystery

It’s hard to imagine a more dire assessment from scientists: Because of human activities, nature is in more trouble now than at any other time in human history, with extinction looming over 1 million species of plants and animals, according to the United Nations’ first comprehensive report on biodiversity. Meanwhile, off the coast of California, scientists are trying to figure out a mystery: an increase in sightings of once-common basking sharks. Researchers think environmental factors have something to do with it, but they hesitate to draw conclusions because there is so little baseline information about the species.

An Environmentalist’s Dilemma

Lithium is used in batteries that are expected to play an important role in reducing greenhouse gas emissions, yet mining the silvery-white metal exacts a steep toll on the land. Now, this debate over what’s been called “white gold” is coming to California, where an Australia-based battery firm wants to drill into a prehistoric lake bed on the edge of Death Valley National Park to see whether it contains economically viable concentrations of lithium.

— Myanmar has freed two Reuters journalists after imprisoning them for more than 500 days for reporting on military atrocities against Rohingya Muslims.

— Fäviken, the restaurant in Sweden made famous by the TV show "Chef's Table," is closing for good. Chef Magnus Nilsson told us why.

— Federal dietary rules are required by law to be updated every five years. In the past, nutritional experts focused on improving public health did this. Under Trump, a former lobbyist for the high-fructose corn syrup industry is overseeing the process.

— More than 200 workers at Riot Games walked out of the video game developer's Los Angeles headquarters to protest the company's handling of two sexual discrimination lawsuits.

— The owner of disqualified Kentucky Derby horse Maximum Security called Churchill Downs “greedy” and vowed to appeal the decision, only to find out later that appeals are not allowed.

— Boston Red Sox manager Alex Cora won't accompany the team to the White House. Columnist LZ Granderson says his decision shows how athletes are no longer content to be used as political props.

— Facebook has the right to ban extreme voices, but it needs to tread lightly.

— Americans want a “normal” president after Trump. So, columnist Jonah Goldberg asks, why are Democrats going radical?

WHAT OUR EDITORS ARE READING

Subject: Today: Should Mueller Testify? Trump Objects

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

President Trump is once again escalating his fight with House Democrats over the aftermath of the special counsel's report.

Should Mueller Testify? Trump Objects

Should special counsel Robert S. Mueller III testify before Congress about his 448-page report? Not long after House Democrats said they have a tentative deal for Mueller to testify on May 15, President Trump took to Twitter to say that “Bob Mueller should not testify. No redos for the Dems!” Just last week, Atty. Gen. William Barr told Congress he had no objection to Mueller testifying. It's unclear whether Trump would try now to block an appearance by Mueller, who remains a Justice Department employee, or was merely making a rhetorical point. But it is clear that Trump is still aggrieved, claiming that two years of his presidency have been “stollen” — since corrected to “stolen,” but we’ve heard the original goes well with “covfefe.”

More Politics

— Trump tweeted that he is tapping Mark Morgan, a former head of the Border Patrol in the Obama administration, to lead Immigration and Customs Enforcement. Morgan has echoed many Trump talking points on immigration.

— Trump suddenly turned up the pressure on China, threatening to increase tariffs on $200 billion worth of Chinese goods.

— In Venezuela, U.S.-back opposition leader Juan Guaido's strategy has flopped again. Now what?

— Bernie Sanders and Joe Biden disagree on a central issue: Is defeating Trump enough to cure what ails the country?

A Deadly Weekend in the Mideast

Almost uninterrupted rocket fire at Israel's border with Gaza has left 27 people dead in the largest escalation of fighting since the 2014 Gaza war. The Israeli army reported that more than 600 rockets had been launched from Gaza into Israel since Saturday, and said it had responded with 320 airstrikes Sunday. The Gazan Ministry of Health, an arm of the Hamas paramilitary group that rules the blockaded Palestinian enclave, reported 23 dead; Israeli authorities said that four civilians were killed by incoming rocket fire.

Another Long, Strange Trip?

Today, marijuana. Tomorrow, magic mushrooms? On Tuesday, voters in Denver will decide on a measure to decriminalize the psychedelic drug psilocybin. If they vote yes, Denver would be the first city in the nation to do so and give a boost to similar efforts elsewhere. Last year, California failed to get a like-minded measure on the ballot, and Oregon activists hope to put the issue to a statewide vote in 2020. As with marijuana, a much more benign drug, some tout the potential medical benefits. But even scientists who see medical promise in 'shrooms are urging caution.

The Great Derby Debate

It was the most controversial finish in the 145-year history of the Kentucky Derby: Maximum Security crossed the line first, but after a 22-minute wait, three stewards disqualified the horse for interference, handing the victory to the longshot Country House. Some fans, not to mention losing bettors, balked. Trump tweeted: "The Kentucky [sic] Derby decision was not a good one .... Only in these days of political correctness could such an overturn occur." But among horse trainers, the people who spend every day on the backstretch, there was near-unanimity that the stewards had made the correct call.

Subject: Today: And the Democratic Platform Will Be ...

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

Among the large field of Democratic presidential contenders, once-niche political topics are getting the spotlight, and that's making some in the party nervous.

And the Democratic Platform Will Be ...

For all the complexity that being president of the United States entails, winning the job often comes down to a simple, singular idea: "Are you better off than you were four years ago?" "It's the economy, stupid." "Make America great again." Though it's still early, the many Democrats in the race have focused on a lot of things so far: Abolishing the electoral college. Ending the Senate filibuster. Refashioning the Supreme Court. Paying reparations for slavery. One issue that almost every Democratic candidate has been asked about is universal basic income — an idea being tested out in Stockton, where, for the next year and a half, 130 residents of the struggling

Central Valley city will get $500 every month, with no strings attached. But by taking up issues that have gotten little if any attention in past campaigns, some worry the candidates may alienate voters.

More Politics

— President Trump still “likes” the idea of transferring immigrants in the U.S. illegally to so-called sanctuary cities like San Francisco, White House Press Secretary Sarah Huckabee Sanders said. But she portrayed the notion as a burden-sharing strategy that Democrats should welcome rather than a plan designed to punish political adversaries.

— House Speaker Nancy Pelosi says she has taken steps to ensure the safety of Rep. Ilhan Omar after Trump's retweet of a video that purports to show the Minnesota Democrat being dismissive of the 9/11 terrorist attacks.

— Trump's reelection campaign is set to report that it raised more than $30 million in the first quarter of 2019, edging out his top two Democratic rivals combined, according to figures it provided to the Associated Press. Sen. Kamala Harris, who's released 15 years of her tax returns, is the early favorite among Hollywood donors in the 2020 race.

Religion and Politics

In India, religious violence is on the rise, as Prime Minister Narendra Modi looks for a second term in office with five weeks of voting ahead. Critics say Modi and leaders of his Bharatiya Janata Party have emboldened vigilante Hindu groups committing violent acts in the name of protecting cows, which Hindus revere. According to the data journalism initiative India Spend, 98% of India's 125 cow-related hate attacks this decade have occurred during the tenure of Modi and his Hindu nationalist government.

The Thin Red-White-and-Blue Line

Back in February, the Laguna Beach City Council agreed to repaint its all-white squad cars in black and white with the image of an American flag running through the word "police" on the doors. Now that the vehicles are on the streets, the graphic is dividing residents, who are either praising the image as patriotic or panning it as too aggressive. On Tuesday, the council will decide whether to continue with the logo or choose an alternative.

A Roaring Revival

It had been 11 years since Tiger Woods had won a major golf tournament. It was a decade filled with a string of personal scandals and four back surgeries that, as recently as two years ago, left him unable to get out of bed, let alone play golf. On Sunday, he returned to win the Masters for a fifth time at Augusta National, putting him once again in the hunt to tie Jack Nicklaus' record for major titles. But the most poignant moment came when Woods hugged his children on the same course where, 22 years earlier, he embraced his father upon winning the Masters for the first time.

OUR MUST-READS FROM THE WEEKEND

— A confidential report reviewed by The Times shows that years before the current college admissions scandal, UCLA knew of allegations that parents were pledging donations to its athletics program in exchange for their children being admitted to the university.

— When Trump wanted to boot immigrants with temporary protected status, one Van Nuys firm fought back. Columnist Steve Lopez paid a visit.

— A look behind the Hollister Ranch gates. Will the public ever access these exclusive beaches?

— Yasiel Puig will be back in L.A. today as a member of the Cincinnati Reds. As for his six years with the Dodgers? It's complicated.

Subject: Today: Congress passes bill to avoid government shutdown, but Trump has a surprise in store

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

PRESENTED BY*

As the witching hour approached, Congress reached a bipartisan agreement to fund the federal government, and President Trump offered his own surprise.

Barriers but No Wall

The spending bill that Congress approved Thursday night is more than 1,000 pages long and will keep the federal government running through September. It provides $1.375 billion for barriers at the southern border, but no wall. That's less than the $1.6 billion the administration asked for last summer or the $5.7 billion the president demanded in December. The White House said President Trump would sign the legislation, and at the same time declare a national emergency that will allow him to get money for wall construction without congressional approval. Democrats have promised to challenge the move, which is considered a vast expansion of executive power and is certain to be contested in court. Here's what to expect if Trump moves ahead.

More Politics

— The Supreme Court meets behind closed doors Friday to consider whether the Trump administration will be able to ask American households in the 2020 census whether their occupants are U.S. citizens. State officials and Latino activists believe the question would inhibit responses from immigrant families, leading to a severe undercount. The justices' decision could shape the political power of California for the decade ahead.

— Former acting FBI Director Andrew McCabe confirmed that he authorized an investigation into President Trump's ties to Russia in May 2017, following the firing of FBI Director James B. Comey. "I was speaking to the man who had just run for the presidency, and won the election for the presidency, and who might have done so with the aid of the government of Russia, our most formidable adversary on the world stage, and that was something that troubled me greatly," McCabe said, recalling his first meeting with Trump.

— Officials from the United States, Arab states and Israel met in Warsaw to discuss President Trump's long-promised, secret Israeli-Palestinian peace plan, but ended up focusing on Iran, calling the nation a threat to peace and stability in the Middle East. The strategy — to build on shared enmity toward Iran — is designed to unite major Arab states and Israel and sideline the Palestinians.

The Apostle of the Cacti

In California lore, the story of how John Muir went camping in Yosemite with Teddy Roosevelt is legendary. Their communion in the valley led to the creation of the national park. Decades later, a South Pasadena society matron convinced another president, also named Roosevelt — Franklin Delano — that the desert deserved the same protection. She was Minerva Hamilton Hoyt, and she has been called the Apostle of the Cacti. Her passion arose in the aftermath of losing her infant son and her husband. The peace of the desert was solace from her grief. Reporter Deborah Netburn tells how she discovered the story about “the rich lady from South Pas” who was the driving force behind her beloved Joshua Tree. “Minerva Hamilton Hoyt and I are very different people, separated by time and class,” Netburn writes, “but I believe the beauty of the desert spoke to her in the same way it speaks to me.”

Community Sheriff-ing

With support from immigrant rights advocates and Latino voters, Alex

Villanueva won a narrow victory last fall in the race for L.A. County sheriff. Making good on his election pledges, Villanueva is set to unveil a comprehensive immigration plan that will make it more difficult for federal immigration agents to apprehend immigrants newly released from county jails. “We have to balance the needs of the immigrant community and the community at large,” Villanueva told The Times. His decision puts him further at odds with Immigration and Customs Enforcement officials, who under a new policy inaugurated by Villanueva are banned from entering Sheriff’s Department facilities.

‘Fundamental Fairness’

After a trial court ruling determined that a former USC football player had violated the student code of conduct, a state appellate court reversed the finding, concluding that the player had been denied a fair hearing. When students face “serious discipline,” such as suspension or expulsion, the court wrote, a university must permit cross-examination of “adverse witnesses.” The decision has prompted many California public and private colleges to halt similar investigations and revise their Title IX procedures, which bans discrimination based on sex at schools that receive federal funding. The move follows an effort at the national level by U.S. Education Secretary Betsy DeVos to strengthen the rights of the accused in sexual misconduct cases.

Start Spreading the News

Amazon's decision to scrap plans for building new headquarters in New York City is being cheered by local politicians and advocacy groups, who objected to the subsidies that had been offered to the online retail giant. "Today was the day a group of dedicated, everyday New Yorkers & their neighbors defeated Amazon's corporate greed, its worker exploitation and the power of the richest man in the world," wrote Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, a Democrat whose district neighbors the one containing Amazon's proposed New York site. Meanwhile, in Virginia, Gov. Ralph Northam signed a law last week authorizing up to $750 million in state subsidies for the Amazon facilities there. Columnist Michael Hiltzik argues that the reversal in New York "reinforces the giant company's reputation as a grasping bully that cares little for the communities where it operates."

One of California's Great Natural Spectacles

Tired of "politics, partisanship and made-up national emergencies," columnist Robin Abcarian visited the sea elephant colony at Piedras Blancas Beach. These "moving mountains of blubber," akin to "a lurching waterbed with the face of an elephant," didn't disappoint. Males grunted. Females hollered and squealed. Pups screeched. "It was like watching a slo-mo Roman orgy, minus the arms and legs," Abcarian writes.

Thinning Hair? Pour This On Your Head and Watch What Happens

Thinning hair is something that both men and women suffer from. In fact, 85% of American men over 50 will have significantly thinning hair. Over 80% of women will experience noticeable hair loss by the age of 60.

Thinning hair can make you feel unhealthy or older than you really are, and once your hair begins to fall out, it doesn't stop until it's all gone. Fortunately, there is a revolutionary solution that gets real and lasting results right in your own home.

P.S. In a study by the National Institutes of Health, 29% of women suffering from hair loss reported two or more symptoms of depression. So watch the presentation now to learn more.

— The atmospheric river pounded Northern California before drenching the Southland. About 3.5 inches of rain fell in Riverside and Orange counties by late Thursday morning, sending rivers of mud down creeks in the Holy fire burn area. Forecasters announced that with the formation of an El Niño pattern in the Pacific, there's a chance more rain and warmer weather will continue through April.

— After being assigned to home duty when his unmarked car was found crashed and abandoned in South L.A., a Los Angeles police commander enrolled in the Deferred Retirement Option Plan, a controversial retirement program that allows city police officers and firefighters to collect twice their usual pay.

— The field is getting crowded for the 2nd District seat on the L.A. County Board of Supervisors being vacated by term-limited Supervisor Mark Ridley-Thomas. State Sen. Holly J. Mitchell announced that she is entering the race, raising the prospect that Los Angeles County could soon be governed by an all-female board.

— A triple murder brought Newport Beach police and Orange County

Sheriff's Department investigators to a gated community just south of UC Irvine. Residents spoke about how safe the neighborhood was.

YOUR WEEKEND

— Restaurant reviews: At Teddy's Red Tacos, Tijuana-style birria takes its place in the beef canon, while at Porridge + Puffs, rice is Minh Phan's canvas for sophisticated self-expression.

— Hoping to summit Mt. Whitney? This year's online lottery for a trail permit, delayed by the 35-day partial federal government shutdown, has been rescheduled for Feb. 22.

— The nudity and sex scenes in the play "Linda Vista" — now at the Mark Taper Forum — left the audience gasping, but the actors want everyone to know that they're comfortable with it. "We've come to a place where frank conversations are necessary," said Cora Vander Broek, one of the female leads.

— Faced with a budget shortfall of $200,000 and allegations of sexual misconduct within its ranks, the board of directors of the Gay Men's Chorus of Los Angeles decided not to dissolve the group and try instead to close the gap with donations.

— Striking teachers in Denver decided to end their three-day walkout after Denver Public Schools agreed to raises of 7% to 11% with cost-of-living increases. The teachers union also announced that the key sticking issue — bonuses for educators in high-poverty and high-priority schools — will be studied.

— In a scathing audit of the Education Department's student aid office, the inspector general confirmed long-standing criticism that the agency has failed to keep watch over contractors servicing a portfolio of $1.4 trillion in student loans. The Education Department rejected the findings.

— In February 2015, a slightly built London schoolgirl boarded a flight from Gatwick to Istanbul, a journey that would eventually take her into the heart of Islamic State. Once viewed as a child-victim of a cult-like group, that schoolgirl now lives in a squalid refugee camp in northern Syria, is nine months pregnant and wants to return home to Britain.

— American and Chinese officials met in Beijing for high-level trade talks in an effort to reach a deal to end the bruising trade war. On March 1, U.S. tariffs on $200 million in Chinese goods are due to rise from 10% to 25%. The timing might work in U.S. favor with China's economy slowing.

— Airbus SE announced that it will stop manufacturing the A380 double-decker jumbo jet by 2021. The prestige project was popular with passengers and politicians but not with airlines that preferred smaller, more fuel-efficient aircraft. Experts argue that these big planes are the dinosaurs of the sky.

— A coalition of Northern California cities and counties is calling on the state to remove Pacific Gas & Electric from the business of buying and selling electricity, a move that would allow the company to do a better job of preventing wildfires.

— Not long after President Trump urged the Tennessee Valley Authority to keep one of two aging coal-fired power plants open, the

agency voted overwhelmingly to close both of them. “It is not about coal,” said TVA’s chief. “This decision is about economics.”

Lakers coach Luke Walton and star LeBron James. (Chris Szagola / Associated Press)

— Bill Plaschke thinks it’s a good idea for the Lakers to keep Luke Walton as head coach for the rest of the season. “Whether or not you think Walton is the right coach for this team is secondary to the symbolism found in his retention,” Plaschke writes. By retaining Walton, Jeanie Buss showed she was not going to be bullied.

— Ex-Dodgers Yasiel Puig, Matt Kemp and Alex Wood now form the nucleus of the new-look Cincinnati Reds. Puig talked openly about his former team. He bears no ill will toward manager Dave Roberts or the analytically driven front office of Andrew Friedman, and is happy to remind them of the titanic home run he hit off Boston Red Sox pitcher Eduardo Rodriguez in Game 4 of the World Series.

— In threatening to declare a national emergency at the border, President Trump is borrowing from the playbook of president-turned-dictator Ferdinand Marcos. The late leader of the Philippines once claimed in his diary to be doing God's bidding in imposing martial law.

— Even as Congress takes up legislation requiring mandatory background checks for all gun purchases, legislators need to realize that it is not enough. They need to enact even more comprehensive limits on gun use.

ONLY IN L.A.

“I finally nabbed him,” said Miriam Lopez after posing with her new husband in the offices of the Los Angeles County registrar-recorder/county clerk. The couple were among scores of Angelenos who descended on the bureaucratic stronghold in Norwalk for a same-day, no-frills wedding on the most romantic day of the year. Every year on Feb. 14, more than 250 couples tie the knot at registrar-recorder’s offices throughout the county, making Valentine’s Day four times more popular than any other date. Other contenders? Aug. 8 and Oct. 10 — for numerical symmetry — and New Year’s Eve. “Some people might say it’s cheesy, but it’s special,” said Henry Escalera, the object of Lopez’s affection.

Hello Fernando, Emeline & SLO Dixon,

We are having serious graffiti problems on the SE Corner of Crenshaw and 54th Street. This has been going on almost everyday for two months now. Every time the City cleans the Graffiti, they come back and repaint or put up posters.

I am wondering if we can work on the City escalating the clean-ups because Alison McBeth and the Stakeholders on that block are furious.

Secondly, Fernando & SLO Dixon, is it possible to see if we can get the LAPD Gang Unit out to patrol Crenshaw more often to try to capture these folks. The graffiti problem is not contained to this one corner, it was Crenshaw Mural, Crenshaw & 54th (east side of street), Crenshaw and 58th ( west side of street), and all along Crenshaw down to Slauson.

Please advise.

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

A Senate report says Russians focused intensely on African Americans as they sought to deliver a victory for Trump.

TOP STORIES

How Russia Tried to Suppress Black Voters

Russian agents have worked for decades to fan the flames of racial discord in America. Before the 2016 election, they found a particularly potent medium to do so in their efforts to help Donald Trump become president: Facebook and Instagram. More than 30 million users on those platforms shared propaganda messages generated as part of a campaign by Russia's Internet Research Agency to polarize and misinform voters, according to reports by the Senate Intelligence Committee. Among the messages: calling on African Americans to boycott the election or to vote for Jill Stein, attacking Hillary Clinton as a fraud and accusing the mainstream media of lies.

More Politics

— Months after President Trump took office, Russia's disinformation teams trained their sights on a new target: special counsel Robert S. Mueller III. The Russian operatives unloaded on Mueller through fake accounts on Facebook, Twitter and beyond, falsely claiming that the former FBI director is corrupt.

— Former FBI Director James Comey accused Trump of trying to "burn down the entire FBI" and charged that congressional Republicans were willing accomplices for failing to challenge the president.

— Michael Flynn, who briefly served as Trump's first national security advisor, faces sentencing today for lying to the FBI about his conversations with a Russian diplomat during the presidential transition about sanctions on Moscow.

This Time, Jared Apparently Handled It

Republicans and Democrats have been working together (!) on a long-sought overhaul of the criminal justice system, which is expected to be approved by Congress this week and signed into law by Trump. How did the "tough on crime" types in the GOP get on board? Much of the credit is going to Jared Kushner. The president's son-in-law has come under criticism for a wide range of issues, including his friendship with Saudi Arabia's crown prince, handling of the Mideast peace process and potential conflicts of interest, but on this issue, he's won high marks.

Building That Wall in Their Backyards?

Trump has threatened a partial shutdown of the federal government if Congress doesn't allocate $5 billion for his border wall by Friday. In Roma, a Texas town where our journalists rented a house half a block from the Rio Grande, the wall debate is deeply personal. People live right next to the border, with migrants darting through their backyards. Some are in favor of the wall, some against, but everyone wants to know exactly where it would be built. So far, answers have been slow in coming.

Bored With Anticipation

Fifteen hundred miles west of Roma, in the humble city of Hawthorne, residents are also wondering what's going on in — or rather, practically underneath — their backyards. Today, they should get a better look, as Elon Musk's Boring Co. plans to unveil its first tunnel. In addition to generating publicity, the mile-long stretch will be used for research and development of what Musk envisions as a network of high-speed tunnels whisking cars across Southern California on "skates."

Just a few months ago, Leslie Moonves was one of the most powerful executives in Hollywood as the chief executive of CBS. Now, after having been forced to resign over sexual misconduct allegations, he's being stripped of his \$120-million severance. The CBS board says it had grounds to fire Moonves for cause after he committed "willful and material misfeasance" and failed to cooperate fully with the company's investigation. Moonves, who has denied wrongdoing, is expected to fight the findings.

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

An up-close look at life in a border town, where we rented a house — and saw a cat-and-mouse game play out.

Help the Border Patrol — or the Border Crossers?

We wanted to know what life is like on the U.S.-Mexico border. So we moved in. Times reporter Molly Hennessey-Fiske and photographer Robert Gauthier lived off and on for four months in a house half a block from the Rio Grande in Roma, Texas. They found a community like any other — parents raising kids, tending to aging parents. But Roma is also a busy crossing point for illegal immigration in the U.S., and our journalists found a community gripped by suspicion. Some residents worry that their neighbors are smugglers. Some thought Hennessey-Fiske and Gauthier were narcs — informants working with the Border Patrol — while others thought they were narcos with Mexican drug cartels. Others warmed to them and invited the two into their homes for tacos or enchiladas. Living in Roma also means having to face a legal and ethical question: If a border crosser asks for help, what do you do? Write in here and let us know, as our series unfolds this week.

$5 Billion or Bust

Nearly 1,800 miles away from Roma, a different battle over the border is looming: funding for President Trump's much-talked-about wall. Last week, Trump said he'd be "proud" to shut down the government if he doesn't get $5 billion for it, and on Sunday, White House advisor Stephen Miller said that "we're going to do whatever is necessary" to secure the money. If no deal is reached, a partial shutdown of the government would begin Saturday. Given the political climate in Washington, that seems more likely than not at this point.

Truth or Consequences

Donald Trump has long had a loose relationship with the truth, making grandiose, often false statements about the height of his buildings, the size of his wealth and any number of other subjects. But after nearly two years in office, his lies appear to be catching up to him, as investigations look into nearly every organization he's led in the last decade. Federal prosecutors in New York showed last week they have meticulously deconstructed the hush-money scheme that Trump once denied knowledge of. Meanwhile, special counsel Robert S. Mueller III has peeled away Trump's claim he had "nothing to do with Russia" by revealing that well into his presidential campaign he was trying to build a luxury tower in Moscow.

More Politics

— A report prepared for the Senate that provides the most sweeping analysis yet of Russia's disinformation campaign around the 2016 election found that the operation used every major social media platform to deliver words, images and videos tailored to voters' interests to help elect Trump — and worked even harder to support him while in office.

— David Bernhardt, a former oil and gas lobbyist, is among the front-runners to succeed Ryan Zinke as secretary of the Interior. The scandal-plagued Zinke is departing by the end of the year.

— Trump named Mick Mulvaney, now his budget director, as his acting chief of staff.

Hazardous to the GOP's Health

Just in time for the end of open enrollment: On Friday, a federal judge in Texas found Obamacare to be unconstitutional, potentially putting medical coverage for tens of millions of Americans in jeopardy.

Though the consensus among experts is that the ruling will be overturned on appeal, it's reopened the wounds from previous GOP attempts to dismantle the Affordable Care Act. Given how Republicans were pummeled on the issue in November's election, many are not cheering the court's decision. A notable exception: Trump, who called it "Great news for America!"

Crime and the Ultimate Punishment

A new report says the number of people sentenced to death in the United States this year has dropped dramatically — and Southern California has provided some of the starkest figures. In 2015 and 2017, Riverside County sent more people to death row than any other county in the nation. This year so far, that number is zero. What's going on? Analysts say more selective charging by prosecutors and more skeptical juries have a lot to do with it.

Understanding California's Deadliest Fire

More than a month after the Camp fire killed 86 people, much remains unknown about California's deadliest wildfire on record. But more information is emerging. According to a Times analysis of data from the Butte County Sheriff's Office, most victims were in their 70s, 80s and 90s and died in or near their homes. Infirmary and sometimes stubbornness played a role in their deaths. Meanwhile, just days after a lawsuit blamed Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s equipment for starting the fire, the utility told regulators it found bullet-riddled equipment and felled branches on power lines at other potential ignition points.

Leaving Honduras: The Complex Back Story

Honduras was once the homicide capital of the world. Today, it's still among the worst, but the streets are safer — thanks in part to hundreds of millions of dollars the U.S. has spent to fight crime. The theory among American politicians was that better security would mean fewer people migrating to the U.S. But as the migrant caravans have brought to the fore, the reality has been far more complicated.

Their Big Fat Indian Wedding

Beyoncé sang. Former secretaries of State Hillary Clinton and John F. Kerry danced. Bollywood stars pranced. While big weddings are the norm in India, this one in Mumbai — between Isha Ambani, daughter of the richest man in India, and her childhood friend Anand Piramal — was over the top. It comes amid growing concerns in India about wedding culture wastefulness and a potential crackdown in New Delhi.

A look inside the Trump administration plan to roll back the Clean Water Act.

TOP STORIES

An Upstream Battle Over Clean Water

President Trump has said he wants to see “crystal clean water” in the United States. As soon as today, his administration is expected to release a plan to roll back Clean Water Act protections on millions of acres of waterways and wetlands that do not flow year-round — the nature of many upstream waters in California and the arid West. The plan targets a rule put in place by President Obama, which Trump administration officials have characterized as a power grab. At stake are billions of dollars in potential development rights, the quality of drinking water for tens of millions of Americans and rules that affect farming in much of the country.

The Supreme Didn’t Go There, This Time

When Trump picked Brett M. Kavanaugh to serve on the Supreme Court, some conservatives thought the new justice, when given the chance, would vote in favor of restricting abortion rights. But at his first opportunity, he took a pass. Kavanaugh and Chief Justice John G. Roberts Jr. joined liberal justices in turning down appeals backed by 13 conservative states seeking to take away Medicaid funds from Planned Parenthood. What’s behind the surprise? It could be that Roberts and Kavanaugh are wary of taking on the abortion issue too soon after Kavanaugh’s bruising confirmation fight.

What Is Mongols MC Without Its TM?

It's one of the most notorious logos on the road today: the insignia for the Mongols motorcycle club, which has long been targeted by authorities for killings and drug trafficking. The logo is also trademarked. So, if federal prosecutors prevail in a racketeering case against the group's leadership in Orange County, they plan to go after the Mongols MC mark. ### The Politics of War, Memory and Art

To artist Beau Stanton, the rays of sun in his mural of actress Ava Gardner at a public school gym in Koreatown are a design element with ancient roots. To Korean groups, they are a reminder of the imperial Japanese battle flag used during World War II, as offensive to them as a swastika would be to Jewish people. Now, the L.A. Unified School District has agreed to paint over the mural at the Robert F. Kennedy Community Schools complex. But that hasn't ended the debate over art and intention.

President Trump will attend the funeral of President George H.W. Bush, but he isn't scheduled to speak.

TOP STORIES

Trump Will See Lots of Love ... for 'Papa Bush'

President George H.W. Bush preached “a kinder, gentler nation” and practiced a kind of bipartisanship that hasn't been seen in the White House since. Bush's state funeral on Wednesday will feature a eulogy from his son, former President George W. Bush — but not from President Trump, who will watch the proceedings from a pew. It's the first time a sitting president has not spoken at the memorial of a predecessor since 1973, when President Nixon didn't eulogize Lyndon B. Johnson. But considering Trump rose to power in open mockery of the Bushes and everything they stood for, it's no surprise he's been left out.

Meanwhile, Back at Tejon Ranch ...

For two decades, the proposed Centennial development at Tejon Ranch northwest of L.A. has been discussed, debated and litigated. Now, with the project set to come before the L.A. County Board of Supervisors one week from today, fresh concerns are being raised about its safety after a series of devastating wildfires hit California. The master-planned community would sit squarely within "high" and "very high" fire hazard severity zones. Representatives for the developers say they have taken the hazards into account and that modern building and safety practices can significantly reduce the risks.

Netflix Gives a Nod to Traditionalists

Netflix has built a business around doing things differently. But digital disruption is not the way to win an Oscar. In an effort to increase its chances of a best picture nomination, the company is showing Alfonso Cuarón's critically acclaimed film "Roma" in theaters for three weeks before making it available online. That's a break from its usual practice of releasing films online and in theaters at the same time. Even so, theater owners aren't happy; they prefer to have an exclusive window for three months.

101 More Reasons to Love L.A.

Boiling Over at the Border

An onrush of migrants. Clouds of tear gas. Tensions in Tijuana boiled over Sunday at the U.S. border, providing a moment that was a kind of political Rorschach test. For the Trump administration and those who support the president's hard-line stance on illegal immigration, the chaos illustrated what they long have feared. For others, the images of the Border Patrol using tear gas on a group of migrants that included children were deeply disturbing. The skirmish led the U.S. government to shut down the San Ysidro Port of Entry, one of the world's busiest international crossings, for more than four hours. Before the incident, President Trump had threatened to close the border with Mexico and has been pushing for asylum seekers to stay in Mexico while awaiting their cases.

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

The president and secretary of State say they believe the Saudis can investigate themselves.

A Double-Barreled Defense of Saudi Arabia

Can the Saudi government be trusted to investigate the disappearance and suspected murder of Virginia-based Saudi journalist Jamal Khashoggi in Turkey, despite the likelihood that senior Saudi officials were involved? President Trump and Secretary of State Michael R. Pompeo have expressed confidence that it can be, while emphasizing the extensive ties between Riyadh and Washington. But Saudi Arabia is far less popular in Congress than in the White House, and reports of more gruesome details about Khashoggi's fate continue to create an international outcry.

Politics Indeed Makes Strange Bedfellows

A new USC Dornsife/Los Angeles Times poll finds that Senate candidate Kevin de León, the architect of California's "sanctuary state" policy who has campaigned as a more liberal alternative to Sen. Dianne Feinstein, is getting his strongest support from \(wait for it...\) Republicans. The reason: They're responding to Trump's anger at Feinstein for her role in the Supreme Court confirmation hearings for Brett M. Kavanaugh. Overall with voters, though, Feinstein still holds a sizable lead over De León. When the two candidates met for a non-debate debate on Wednesday, though, the two disagreed on little.

More Politics

- A senior Treasury Department employee has been charged with leaking documents related to the special counsel's Russia investigation.
- As Trump has been slamming the Federal Reserve for raising interest rates, the central bank's officials appear to be tuning him out.
- Since the arrival in June of former Fox News executive Bill Shine as the president's communications director, Trump has been increasingly brazen about indulging his craving for media attention and using the White House as his personal, taxpayer-funded sound stage.

An Ounce of Quake-Related Prevention ...

When the ground starts shaking, will you be ready? Experts say one of the most cost-effective things you can do is to retrofit a single-family home. Average price tag: \$7,000. In some areas, the government will give you $3,000 to do it. Compare that with having the house potentially fall off its foundation and becoming uninhabitable. Don't own a house? Here's how anyone can prepare.

The Real-Life Halloweentown

When the makers of the 1978 horror film “Halloween” were doing location shoots, they needed a place that could pass for a fictional Illinois town called Haddonfield. They found it in South Pasadena. Forty years later, fans can still find the 130-year-old clapboard house used to portray masked killer Michael Myers’ childhood home. But not everyone in South Pas fully embraces this cinematic legacy.

Saudi Arabia lashes out as leaders in the West demand to know what happened to a missing journalist.

A Showdown With Saudi Arabia

President Trump is facing pressure from Congress and Western allies to get answers from Saudi Arabia about the fate of Jamal Khashoggi, the former palace insider-turned-critic who disappeared after entering the Saudi Consulate in Istanbul and was reportedly killed. Trump said that “severe punishment” would result if it was proved that the Saudis were involved in anything “terrible and disgusting,” but that “they deny it every way you can imagine.” The kingdom has shifted from disavowing knowledge of what happened to Khashoggi to threatening major economic retaliation against anyone who acts against it.

More Politics

- The White House has been considering plans that could again separate parents and children at the U.S.-Mexico border, according to several administration officials with direct knowledge of the effort.
- Trump said he is unsure whether Defense Secretary James N. Mattis will leave and described him as “sort of a Democrat” amid reports of friction between the two.
- The president is expected to name conservative Catholic activist and longtime commercial lawyer Pat Cipollone as the next White House counsel.

Big Contracts and a Disputed Ancestry

A company owned by House Majority Leader Kevin McCarthy’s in-laws won more than $7 million in no-bid and other federal contracts at U.S. military installations and other government properties in California based on a dubious claim of Native American identity by McCarthy’s brother-in-law, a Times investigation has found. The contracts, awarded through a federal program designed to help disadvantaged minorities, were mostly for projects in and around McCarthy’s district.

The Decline and Fall of a Retail Empire

Sears was once the most dominant retailer in America. After 125 years in business, it has filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy, with plans to close more than 100 stores but remain open during the holiday season as it seeks to reorganize. The move has been a long time coming. Hedge fund manager Edward Lampert, who took control of the company more than a dozen years ago, has made cuts in an effort to keep Sears afloat. He has also carved out some choice assets for himself.

Sainthood, at Long Last

Over the years, the influence of the late Archbishop Oscar Romero has reached far beyond the boundaries of El Salvador, the tiny country where he was shot in the heart while celebrating Mass in 1980. He has been compared to Gandhi and the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. And now, he is a saint, after a ceremony led by Pope Francis in Vatican City and attended by faithful from around the world. For L.A.'s large Salvadoran community, it was a moment for celebration and reflection.

Bad Trip, Eh?

On Wednesday, Canada will become the second country in the world to legalize recreational marijuana nationwide. Some Canadians have already experienced a real downer when they try to visit the U.S.: being barred for life if they admit to border agents that they've ever used pot. For those who are denied entry, there is a waiver, but obtaining one costs time and money.

Chris Toledo has dreams of owning a grand house in L.A. So he built one by hand, from the hardwood floors to the bathroom tiles to the stone fountains, all with incredible details. The cost: about $5,000. That’s because this house, called Casa California, is a miniature about one-twelfth the size of a real 1920s Spanish Mediterranean home. One day, his artistry might help him buy a full-sized place of his own.

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

PRESENTED BY*

Confusion and discord over the FBI's inquiry into allegations against Brett Kavanaugh grow, as President Trump mocks one of the judge's accusers.

Noise in the Background Check

The FBI investigation into sexual assault allegations against Supreme Court nominee Brett Kavanaugh is supposed to provide clarity. But, so far, the circumstances surrounding it are creating more confusion and even some new schisms among Republicans. Some GOP senators want to see at least part of the FBI inquiry made public and would like time to go over details, while Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell says only senators will see it, as is customary with background checks, and that a vote on confirming Kavanaugh will happen this week. Meanwhile, at a rally in Mississippi, President Trump mocked Christine Blasey Ford's testimony about the assault allegations. And Ford's lawyers say the FBI has given them the cold shoulder.

More Politics

- The New York Times reported that Trump received at least $413 million from his father over the decades, much of that through dubious tax dodges, including outright fraud. A lawyer for Trump said there was no “fraud or tax evasion.”
- Secretary of State Michael R. Pompeo is scheduled to return to Pyongyang on Sunday for meetings with North Korean leader Kim Jong Un in an attempt to revive nuclear disarmament talks.
- Auto provisions were a major U.S. focus in revamping NAFTA, but analysts say the changes will have only a modest effect.

From California With Hate

The Rise Above Movement casts itself as an alt-right fight club in Southern California. But for more than a year, authorities say, the relatively small militant white-power group has caused trouble at political rallies across California. Now, four of its members have been accused by federal prosecutors of traveling to Virginia with the intent to incite a riot and commit violence in Charlottesville last year.

Disturbing Conditions at a Migrant Detention Facility

When federal inspectors arrived at the Adelanto ICE Processing Center in San Bernardino County for a surprise inspection in May, they found nooses made of bed sheets hanging in 15 of 20 cells. They met with a dentist who dismissed the need for fillings and suggested detainees could use string from their socks to floss. They heard of weeks- and months-long waits to see a doctor. And that's not all nearly 2,000 detainees face as they await the outcome of their immigration cases.

Naming More Names

For two decades, Roman Catholic dioceses across California have struggled to deal with a sexual abuse scandal that has played out around the world and, more recently, damaged American Catholics' view of Pope Francis. The dioceses have paid out massive settlements to victims and acknowledged institutional breakdowns. Now, some are moving to release more names of priests credibly accused of molestation. But is it enough? Some victims say it's too little, too late.

Power Wash For Your Insides

What if you could restore your gut health with one simple fix? According to one doctor in California, there may be a way. In fact, he believes it's so powerful that it could be like a "power wash" for your insides.

Dr. Gundry, who is a world-renowned heart surgeon, reveals the root cause of weight gain, food cravings and low energy in a short video he released to the public.

P.S. This video also reveals how you can transform your gut with this one simple thing.

— Shohei Ohtani's hometown in Japan watched his rookie season with the Angels with admiration and pride.

FROM THE ARCHIVES

On this date in 1933, tragedy struck in Griffith Park when a small brush fire ignited and 1,500 Depression-era workers, who were there for road widening and other projects, were sent to the top of a ridge to toss dirt on the flames. A gust of wind sent the fire roaring toward the workers, who were not trained in firefighting, and caused a panic.

Twenty-nine people died in the incident.

CALIFORNIA

— State lawmakers wrote 1,016 new laws this year. Here are some of the highlights.

— L.A. police have arrested four people accused of celebrity home break-ins targeting the Rams' Robert Woods, the Dodgers' Yasiel Puig and singer Rihanna.

— An L.A. personnel official says a discrimination complaint against L.A. City Councilman Jose Huizar was “mishandled” and that it should have been addressed much sooner.

— Test scores in the state's schools have barely improved. But there's little agreement on what to do about it.

— “A Star Is Born” is “poised to become the movie of the moment — the one everyone has to see right now.” Film critic Kenneth Turan explains why in this review.

— Linda Ronstadt is no longer singing, so her latest tour is a conversation with the audience.

— After more than five decades, the Bob Baker Marionette Theater says it will leave its original home near downtown L.A. at the end of November.

— An American couple have lost their bid in a French court to keep a Pissarro painting looted during World War II.

— About 225 million electronic devices across the United States will wail and buzz today as the Federal Emergency Management

Agency conducts an emergency alert test.

— Authorities at the Pentagon found at least two packages suspected of containing ricin. The Secret Service also confirmed that a suspicious envelope was addressed to Trump.

— The death toll from an earthquake and tsunami that hit Indonesia has risen, as the survivors grow more desperate.

— Three physicists whose pioneering work transformed lasers from science-fiction fantasy into powerful tools were awarded the 2018 Nobel Prize in Physics.

— Tucker Carlson's third time as a TV host has been the charm, with "Tucker Carlson Tonight" ranking first among cable news audiences in its time slot every night since its premiere in April 2017.

— Amazon says it's raising its minimum wage for all U.S. workers to \$15 per hour starting next month, including for Whole Foods employees.

SPORTS

— In a surprise move, the Dodgers announced Hyun-Jin Ryu — not Clayton Kershaw — will start Game 1 of the National League Division

Series against Atlanta on Thursday.

— Tony Wolters hit a tiebreaking single with two outs in the 13th inning and the Colorado Rockies beat the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in an epic NL wild-card game.

— It sure would be nice if billionaire Vinod Khosla finally gave compromise a try on public beach access.

— If you're ready to quit California, columnist Gustavo Arellano has some news for you.

ONLY IN L.A.

Following in the footsteps of the Museum of Ice Cream and the Museum of Broken Relationships comes Cheat Day Land, a social-media-friendly pop-up museum that is devoted to “cheat day” foods such as burgers, tacos and cake. But here you can work out more than your selfie-taking fingers: You can jump on a trampoline that looks like a pancake-flipping skillet or lift doughnut dumbbells.

Another accusation. Another denial. Brett Kavanaugh's nomination for the Supreme Court is in further disarray after a graphic new allegation of sexual misconduct when he was a freshman at Yale. The White House distributed a vehement denial from Kavanaugh and denounced the accusation from Deborah Ramirez, published in the New Yorker, as a Democratic-inspired effort to "tear down a good man.” Republican Sen. Charles E. Grassley said the Senate Judiciary Committee would “attempt to evaluate these new claims”; Democratic Sen. Dianne Feinstein called for an immediate postponement of confirmation proceedings until the FBI could investigate. Meanwhile, professor Christine Blasey Ford, who accuses Kavanaugh of sexual assault when both were teenagers, and the nominee are scheduled to testify before senators Thursday.

Year of the Woman, 2018?

As if the November midterm election wasn’t fraught enough, how Republicans are handling the Kavanaugh accusations has made it more so. The GOP push to install him on the Supreme Court before Nov. 6 has risked further alienating female voters already put off by President Trump and his party. An NBC News-Wall Street Journal poll found that women want Democrats to control Congress by 58% to 33%. In California, suburban women will play a key role in at least half a dozen races that could flip seats held by the GOP, including in the contest between Republican incumbent Rep. Steve Knight and Democratic challenger Katie Hill.

Trump Takes the U.N. Again

Trump is back in New York for the United Nations General Assembly. In his debut at the gathering of world leaders last year, Trump unleashed some verbal fire and fury, by threatening to “totally destroy” North Korea and blasting “loser terrorists.” This week, expect

more tough talk on Iran and self-praise for talks with Kim Jong Un, U.S. trade protectionism and victories against Islamic State. His audience, though, may be a bit more jaded, having had a year to size up Trump's bluster and find ways to work with or around him.

Rising and Falling With the 1%

Californians are just over six weeks away from electing their next governor. A new L.A. Times series is taking a look at the biggest issues John Cox or Gavin Newsom will face. First up: the economy and taxes. Did you know that nearly 70% of California's revenue comes from personal income tax? And that the top 1% of filers paid out nearly 46% of income tax revenue? This top-heavy approach has its dangers, especially if the economy goes south. We asked Cox and Newsom what should be done — and we're asking you too.

'Like' Lemmings?

On Instagram, the waterfalls and swimming holes of Angeles National Forest look amazing. In real life, even more so — except for the broken bones that can result. Officials in Southern California say rescues in nature areas have increased dramatically in recent years as people visit the spots they see on social media and sometimes try to create their own like-worthy posts by engaging in risky behavior, like diving into a rock pool. ## Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

President Trump smells another conspiracy ... in the official death toll from last year's devastating hurricanes in Puerto Rico.

---

'Deatherism'

With Hurricane Florence hitting the Carolinas, President Trump has provoked widespread outrage by falsely accusing Democrats of inflating Puerto Rico's death toll from hurricanes Maria and Irma last year. Without citing evidence, the president took issue with the U.S. island's official death toll and claimed that "3000 people did not die in the two hurricanes." It was the latest example of Trump's instincts to deny accepted reality when he perceives it as criticism and to counter with conspiracy theories. Some observers called it "deatherism," alluding to Trump's birtherism campaign against President Obama. "How can you disrespect the dead?" said one woman whose grandfather died in Puerto Rico when his insulin could not be refrigerated. “It's beyond my comprehension.”

More Politics

- A letter reportedly alleging a decades-old incident involving Supreme Court nominee Brett Kavanaugh has been referred to the FBI for review.
- Education Secretary Betsy DeVos has lost a student loan lawsuit brought by 19 states and the District of Columbia, saying her department's postponement of the so-called Borrower Defense rule was improper.

‘He’s Not the Same Boy’

Twelve-year-old Erik Castillo Lanuza is back with his parents in Guatemala. He was one of more than 2,500 children the Trump administration separated from their parents under its “zero tolerance” policy and one of about 400 left in the U.S. after their parents were deported. But his mother noticed something was off when he came back: Was it the trauma of being held separately from his father? Or the antipsychotic drug he was put on while in government custody?

The New Climate Activists Are ... CEOs?

As Gov. Jerry Brown's global climate summit enters its third and final day, some of the world's biggest companies say they plan to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, even if the U.S. government won't. Businesses such as McDonald's, Walmart and Levi Strauss & Co. have pledged to do so, whether to help their bottom line, generate publicity or protect their image with consumers. Some skeptics contend that it's mostly for show.

Where #RiceBunny Means #MeToo

China is no stranger to the cycle of sexual harassment, shame and even suicide that has inspired a pushback via the #MeToo movement. But in a country where gender inequality is still deeply entrenched and virtually any form of social protest is swiftly stifled, activists face a daunting and often risky challenge. To get around censorship of the #MeToo hashtag, activists came up with a sound-alike in Mandarin: the characters for "rice bunny."

Who Killed Lorenzen Wright?

He was a first-round draft pick for the Clippers in 1996 and played 13 seasons in the NBA. Eight years ago, Lorenzen Wright was found dead in a Memphis field. Five gunshot wounds were visible in the withered remains. The killing remained unsolved, but by last December, a long-dormant police investigation had taken on new life.

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

Presidents Trump and Vladimir Putin are meeting in Helsinki, Finland.
“I go in with very low expectations,” Trump said.

TOP STORIES

To the Finland Station

When President Trump met with North Korean leader Kim Jong Un, the agenda was clear. As he meets with Russian President Vladimir Putin today for four hours of scheduled talks — including 90 minutes one on one without any note-takers or aides — Trump has not publicly said what he hopes to gain. Leaders in Washington have urged him to confront Putin over Crimea, Syria and Russia’s interference in the 2016 U.S. election, especially after a dozen Russian military officers were charged in the hacking of Democratic Party computers. But Trump has continued to dance around the issue and kept up his criticism of America’s closest allies, including calling the European Union a “foe” when it comes to trade. Here is the latest from Helsinki, including Trump's prediction that the U.S. and Russia "will end up having an extraordinary relationship."

More Politics

— Special counsel Robert S. Mueller III may have little choice but to seek a subpoena if Trump won't agree to be interviewed, yet doing so before the November midterm election is a prospect Mueller might hope to avoid.

— Never mind the candidates. In this key congressional contest in California's high desert, it's all about Trump.

Locked and Loaded?

The Supreme Court hasn't had much to say about the 2nd Amendment, especially since a 5-4 ruling a decade ago that protects the right of individuals to have a gun for self-defense. But if Trump nominee Brett Kavanaugh is confirmed to the high court, that could change. The judge's record shows he has taken an unusually strong stand in favor of broad gun rights. With a conservative majority, the court could be prepared to strike down bans on semi-automatic weapons in liberal states such as California — and decree that Americans have a right to carry a gun in public.

Behind the Feinstein Snub

In California's June primary, voters overwhelmingly chose longtime incumbent Sen. Dianne Feinstein over fellow Democrat and state Sen. Kevin de León. But at a meeting of state party leaders this weekend, liberal activists endorsed the underdog, who's been so outspoken in his opposition to Trump that he hosted an “ABOLISH ICE CREAM SOCIAL” for delegates. Of course, the real question will be which side is more in touch with voters when the November election comes around.

An Angst-Filled Reunion

Hermelindo Che Coc and his 6-year-old son, Jefferson Che Pop, traveled from Guatemala to seek asylum in the U.S. The two were separated at the border and didn’t see each other for nearly two months. When they reunited at Los Angeles International Airport over the weekend, the boy had a vacant look in his eyes — as well as a bruise, a cough and a rash on his arms, stomach and back. The reunion was one of the first to take place in L.A., as the Trump administration unveiled a new plan to meet a court-imposed deadline.

— Phoenix Bakery in L.A.’s Chinatown turns 80 this year. Its survival has required the collective efforts of a far-flung multigenerational Chinese American family trying to uphold a legacy.

— In the latest L.A. homeless count, the number of tents, vehicles and makeshift shelters had increased, while the number of homeless dropped. How to explain?

— From “Black Panther” to “Marvel’s Luke Cage,” 2018 has seen more African American superheroes in their own namesake productions than any other time in history.

— How to keep plants alive in this blistering summer heat. Turns out, watering in the middle of the day can do more harm than good.

MUST-WATCH VIDEO

— This former LAPD officer was filmed giving scuba lessons, biking and lifting heavy equipment while on paid injury leave. But he's far from alone in claiming injuries while continuing an active life.

CALIFORNIA

— A forest fire burning near Yosemite National Park has left one firefighter dead, forced the closure of Highway 140 into the park and prompted evacuations of nearby communities.

— A federal judge ordered the Los Angeles Times to remove information from an article that described a plea agreement between prosecutors and a Glendale police detective, a move the newspaper decried as highly unusual and unconstitutional.

— A former Border Patrol agent has pleaded guilty in San Diego federal court to a conspiracy charge stemming from his role in a drug-trafficking ring.

— Authorities say a couple on a camping trip came upon a missing Oregon woman who survived a week after her car went over a cliff near Big Sur.

— In Showtime's "Who Is America?" Sacha Baron Cohen returns to TV in the guise of gun-loving Israeli security "expert" Erran. TV critic

Robert Lloyd weighs in. — The new movie “Eighth Grade” takes an R-rated look at school life. Here’s what a group of about-to-be eighth- and ninth-graders think of it.

— After a nearly yearlong classic arena tour, Harry Styles may be the future of rock 'n' roll.

— If male architects had to navigate their own buildings in skirts, they might not build glass floors and other see-through walkways.

CLASSIC HOLLYWOOD

In the 1940s and '50s, Asian Americans were rarely seen in Hollywood movies and on TV. When they were, it was often in stereotypical roles. Over the course of a long career as a dancer, actress and nightclub impresario in San Francisco and Honolulu, Mai Tai Sing tried to break that mold. Sing, who died last week at age 94, appeared in movies such as 1953’s “Forbidden” and TV shows including 1961’s “Hong Kong.”

Mai Tai Sing and Wilbur Tai Sing, circa 1942, toured the U.S. as a dance act, got married and had two children. They would divorce in 1954. (Arthur Dong)

— The worst of recent fighting between Israel and Hamas militants in the Gaza Strip has subsided, but Israeli Cabinet officials and top military officials appeared deeply divided over how to respond.

— A woman shown in a viral video being berated for wearing a Puerto Rican flag T-shirt said she hopes the incident “shines a light on what’s going on with racism” nationwide.

Today's Headlines

Send to friend | Open in browser

President Trump has scored a diplomatic victory with the return of three U.S. citizens who were imprisoned in North Korea.

The Homecoming

Three American citizens held captive by North Korea — two captured last year and one in late 2015 — have returned to the United States with Secretary of State Mike Pompeo. Awaiting them at Joint Base Andrews: an exultant President Trump, who shook their hands and held a news conference on the tarmac in which he expressed hope for a planned summit with North Korean dictator Kim Jong Un (and suggested the homecoming “broke the record for television ratings at 3 o’clock in the morning”). Their release was not without drama in Pyongyang, but it should help clear the stage for a Trump-

Kim meeting, possibly in Singapore. “I really think he wants to do something,” the president said of Kim.

President Trump shakes hands with Kim Dong Chul, along with Tony Kim, far left, and Kim Hak Song, far right, the three Americans who were detained in North Korea. (Susan Walsh / Associated Press)

Is Pyongyang Watching Tehran?

The three men’s release from North Korea provided some good diplomatic news for Trump, who’s been lambasted for pulling the United States out of the Iran nuclear deal and already has seen Mideast tensions rise. But it hasn’t stopped the speculation over how the U.S. withdrawal from the Iran pact could affect talks with North Korea. The Trump administration argues that if Kim is at all paying attention to the Iran situation, he will see America’s strong resolve; an array of outside experts counters that it will make a deal with North Korea even more difficult.

More Politics

- Trump’s personal lawyer Michael Cohen accused Stormy Daniels’ attorney of improperly acquiring Cohen’s bank records and releasing false information about his finances in an attempt to discredit him.
- A bipartisan group of House members led by Rep. Jeff Denham, a Republican from Turlock, Calif., have filed a petition to force a vote on four immigration bills over the objections of GOP leadership.
- Senate Democrats have initiated an attempt to reinstate net

neutrality regulations; they believe the issue is a political winner for them.

The CIA's Past and Future

In her bid to become the CIA's first female director, Gina Haspel answered questions from U.S. senators about a topic she preferred to leave in the past: the treatment of terrorism suspects under “enhanced interrogation” tactics. Democrats said they targeted her role in post-9/11 interrogations because Trump has said he'd like to bring back waterboarding. At Wednesday's hearing, Haspel pledged to not revive such harsh tactics. It wasn't enough to satisfy Republican Sen. John McCain, who was tortured as a POW. But Democratic Sen. Joe Manchin III said he will vote for her.

Saucy, With a Tender Side

For Mexican citizens who've spent years or decades in the United States, returning to Mexico — voluntarily or not — can be a difficult transition. In Mexico City, a Texas-style barbecue joint is trying to help. The American owner of the saltily named Pinche Gringo restaurant has made it a point to hire deportees and others who have returned after long stints north of the border. The idea is to bring the countries together through “barbecue diplomacy.”

Facing the Music

Kanye West has endured plenty of controversies over his two-decade career, but none quite like calling Trump “my brother” in “dragon energy” and saying slavery was a “choice.” Though he's kept his major-league deals, some say his penchant for antagonism has brought about a fan backlash reminiscent of when the Dixie Chicks took on President George W. Bush ahead of the Iraq war in 2003.

Coates, who died at age 92, won an Oscar for that 1962 film and would be nominated four more times.

A BINARY WUNDER //

1010 is a Polish artist who lives and works in Hamburg, Germany. Although he has been creating murals since he was a teenager, 1010 has recently gained worldwide attention for his perception-bending illusionary VOIDS that range in size from a poster to the size of a building. The graphic technique 1010 employs, creates the powerful illusion of depth, calling to mind portals to other dimensions and the reminder that we are not entirely in control of our perceptions.

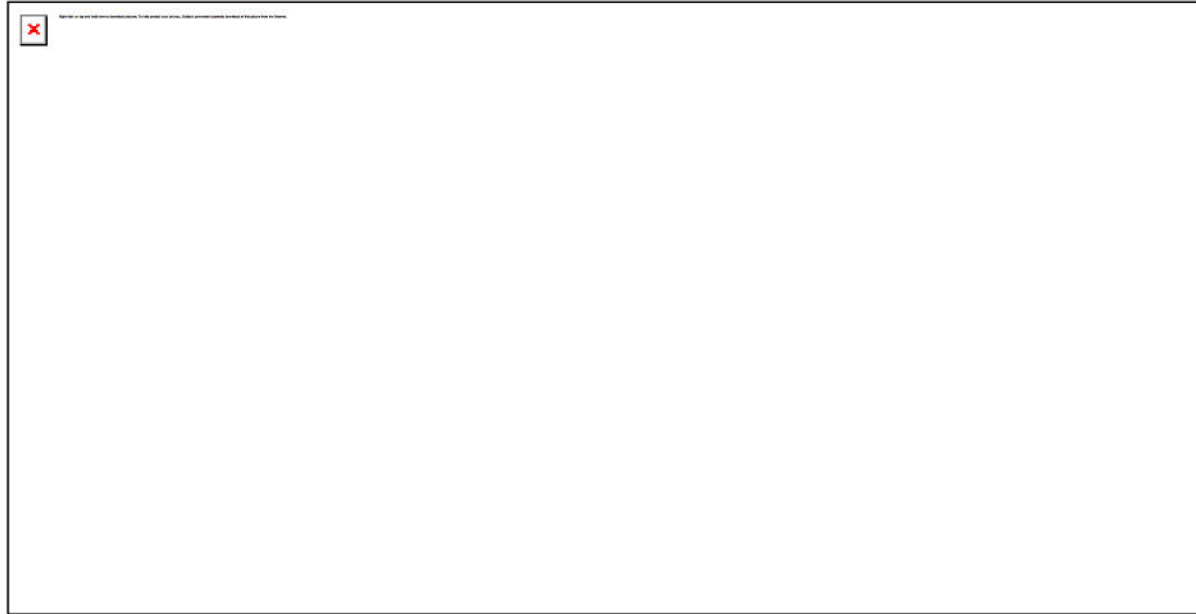

He goes by the name 1010 (ten ten) as an illusion to one's and zero's (binary code), a name that was given to him as an early street artist using the tag 1010. He now has commissioned murals and solo-exhibitions in galleries and public spaces all over the world.

1010 working on a stretch of abandoned highway outside Paris.

Subject: MMD Mural?

Good morning,

Regarding the Park Mesa Heights Meeting on Saturday.

I did some research and there is a Code Enforcement section that restricts signage and exterior artwork. People must get permits to put up murals.

Do you have the exact address of the MMD with the mural people were complaining about?

Regards,

Nicole Deering
